South Davis County Residents Have Opportunity To Comment On Transit Options

UTA And UDOT Seek Input On South Davis Transit Study

Residents of south Davis County let your voices be heard. The Utah Transit Authority and Utah Department of Transportation are seeking feedback from residents of south Davis County on the future of transit in their county. The input residents share will help guide the South Davis Transit Study, currently underway, in determining what transit mode and alignment are best suited to the needs of south Davis County.

A new questionnaire and comment form have been posted on the South Davis Transit Study website, www.udot.utah.gov/southdavistransit. The questionnaire seeks comment on the different potential modes of transportation and different alignments for the area. There are currently a long list of modes and alternatives being analyzed by the two agencies. The modes include:

- Streetcar
- TRAX Light Rail
- Diesel Multiple Unit Rail (similar to TRAX but diesel powered)
- Traditional or Enhanced Bus
- Bus Rapid Transit (Buses that run in designated lanes, with stations and frequencies similar to TRAX)

More information on each mode and on the South Davis Transit Study may be found on the website or by calling the South Davis Transit Study hotline at 1-888-721-4211. The questionnaire may be accessed by clicking on "Comment Form" on the website. The form may also be printed out and mailed to: South Davis Transit Study, c/o H.W. Lochner, 310 East 4500 South, Suite 600, Salt Lake City, Utah 84107.
